Who We Are

The Juneau Watershed Partnership (JWP) is Juneau's local watershed council, a non-profit organization of local citizens whose mission is to promote watershed integrity in the City and Borough of Juneau while encouraging sustainable use and development.

JWP brings the community, municipality, and local resource agencies together to work on important watershed issues.

We are a politically neutral organization, supporting sustainable uses and development within Juneau. Our board of directors has included educators, researchers, land managers and planners, developers, contractors, and private business owners.

What We Do

Key JWP Program Areas:

- Applied Research and Watershed Planning
- Stream, Wetland, and Watershed Education and Outreach
- Facilitating Communication and Collaboration between state, federal, and local stakeholders

JWP Project Work Includes:

- Watershed Assessments & Mgmt. Planning
- Water Quality Monitoring
- Litter/Garbage Removal and Prevention Efforts
- Youth Education and Outreach
- Resource and Watershed Inventory Mapping
- Invasive Weed Outreach

You Can Help

Become a member today! As a member of the JWP, you will receive our monthly e-newsletter and our annual report with information about our work, new publications, and collaboration with local stakeholders, upcoming events, and volunteer opportunities. The Juneau Watershed Partnership is a 501c-3 non-profit organization, and your monetary and in-kind donations are tax deductible by law.

You can make a difference in your community: get your feet wet with our restoration and clean-up events, raise awareness in your neighborhood, and contribute your ideas on working together to maintain healthy watersheds.

Your membership dollars support stream monitoring, collaborative watershed planning and research, and community outreach events such as stream cleanups and community workshops. We leverage every membership dollar to match state and federal grant money and keep our organization running strong.
